Discontinue. Even though he is one of a few Fentora speakers that is an oncologist the hospital he works for sees a conflict of interest when he is involved with industry. I don't think he will be able to speak in the future.		0
New speaker, keep in systemS; DR. Gallant should remain on the speakers bureau. Although an IM physician, he has good experience with Fentora and is able to articulate the benefits of Fentora to his audience very well. He will be used in 2011		0
Should continue. Just got approved to start speaking on Oct. He will be utilized next year.	Local	5

He did not speak in 2011, but this could be due to not having a rep in the territory for the second half of 2011. I would suggest keeping him on the bureau for 2011 in order to have the opportunity to utilize and evaluate as a speaker.		0

I think Dr. Sorensen should stay on the speakers panel for at least one more year. Due to the political nature of the pain management groups in Tulsa, it is difficult to take a local pain doctor into another pain doctor's office. It is, however, helpful to have a local speaker available to speak to primary care physicians, especially if we need a local speaker to potentially roll out the REMS program.		0

Speaker Name	Specialty	City	State	Office Phone	AMFE Territory	Comments
Basu, Sanghamitra	PMD	Las Vegas	NV			Dr. Sanghamitra is respected in the pain management specialty in Las Vegas. She is willing to conduct programs locally and we currently do not have a speaker in this market.
Dr Phillip Matthews	PMD	Bellvue	WA
Halter, Mitchell	PMD	Tuscon	AZ			Dr. Halter is a respected pain management professional in Tucson and is skilled with opioids. We would use him for Tucson-based lunch and dinner CSPs.
Joshi Jay	PMD		IL			Dr. Joshi is currently a National Speaker for Amrix. He is able and willing to travel around the Midwest, which does not have a lot of speakers. He has done National training for Amrix and would be a very valued speaker to have in Illinois as Dr. Irwin is likely on the physically unable to perform list.
